You had the fastest start in Phase 1. Phase 2 is about making it last and turning it into a system you run on autopilot — without burning out.

Your weekly targets

Phase 2 nutrition — protein-forward, fiber carbs, fat at a healthy floor. Calorie target keeps your deficit steady, not aggressive.

CALORIES / DAY

1,860 kcal

PROTEIN / DAY

The four rules

- 1 • Protein first. Hit your protein number every day. Build each meal around a palm or two of protein before anything else goes on the plate.
- 2 • No liquid sugar. Zero sugary drinks — no soda, juice, milk tea, sweet coffee, or flavored milk. This single rule removes hundreds of hidden calories a day. Water, black coffee, unsweetened tea only.
- 3 • Fiber carbs only, controlled. Carbs come from the fiber list, in set portions, mostly around your training. No white bread, instant noodles, or pastries.
- 4 • Log every meal. Open MyFitnessPal and log it before you eat. We're rebuilding the logging habit — aim for 6 of 7 days. Use the barcode scanner and "Copy Yesterday" to make repeats fast.

Food recommendations

YOUR PORTIONS

Add one extra palm of protein and ½ cup of fiber carb to any variant to reach your number.

This week's movement

RUN / WALK TARGET

12 km

Split into 3–4 easy sessions to total 12 km. Keep them easy — these double as stress relief, which matters for you right now. Easy effort only, not hard runs.

GYM SESSION — RECOMMENDATION

+1 strength day

Adding a short gym strength day protects muscle while you lose fat. Not built yet — message Coach "GYM" and we'll set your loads. It would cover one squat, one hinge, one push, one pull, and a core hold.

YOUR FOCUS

Stress is your #1 lever — a daily 10-minute decompression is part of the plan, not optional. Second win: lock protein at every meal (you were at 3 of 7 days — let's reach 6).

Stop guessing. Follow a system.
